Coaches Select Missouri State as Missouri Valley Conference Baseball Favorite

ST. LOUIS – Missouri State, which returns a dominating young pitching staff and a wealth of depth from last year's squad, has been tabbed as the league favorite in the annual coaches' preseason poll, receiving five of eight first-place votes.

The Bears tallied 60 points and were a close favorite over second-place pick Creighton (53 points). Wichita State (47 points) was picked to finish in the third position.

Indiana State was selected in fourth place with 37 points, followed by Illinois State in fifth (34) and Southern Illinois in the sixth slot (31). Bradley (15) and Evansville (11) round out the final two positions in the poll.

The Valley demonstrates a depth of talent and experience returning to the league this season. The coaches have voted 15 players representing all eight teams to the 2012 preseason all-MVC baseball squad.

Missouri State returns seven position starters and seven pitchers from last season's 33-23 squad, earning the No. 31 spot in the Collegiate Baseball Newspaper's Top-40 Preseason Poll. Leading the way for the veteran-laden Bears will be returning all-MVC performers 2010. Senior Jordan Sivertsen (OF) earned second team all-MVC honors after leading the team with a .302 average, nine home runs and 48 RBIs.
